

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Springfield is have the greatest Fourth of July celebration in its history.

Mrs. C. B. Walbridge of Sharon has a glorioxa containing 17 blossoms of extraordinary size.

Rev. E. C. Hayes, pastor for four years of the Congregational church in Greensboro, read his resignation last Friday morning, to take effect Aug. 10.

Miss Mary Haynes, for three years school nurse of St. Albans, on Aug. 1 goes to Burlington to become superintendent of nurses at the Mary Fletcher hospital.

This is commencement week at the University of Vermont, beginning with the baccalaureate sermon in the gymnasium Sunday afternoon. Prof. S. E. Emerson was the preacher.

Junier Fortier of Salisbury made a big catch of fish on a recent Saturday, dressed them and then put them down cellar for the Sunday breakfast. When he went to get them, the pan was nicely covered, as he had left it, but every fish had been stolen.

Miss Ethel Basford, a St. Albans clerk, was robbed of her handbag Saturday evening as she was on her way home from work. A man came up behind her and snatched her bag from her arm. There was only about $1 in the bag, as she had received her week's pay in the morning, instead of at night.

An Overland automobile, driven by Bernard Olson of Proctor and containing besides the driver another young man and two young women, student nurses at the Proctor hospital, went over an embankment between Pittsford and Florence Sunday evening, smashing the windshield and jamming the front wheels. One of the young women was quite badly injured. The car was driven under its own power to Proctor.

One day last week, as George Morrill of St. Johnsbury Center was driving a flock of sheep to pasture, Harry Day, in his auto, coming around a curve in the highway, ran into the flock, killing three sheep outright, injuring several more so that four died, making a loss at the time of seven, with a prospect that still others will succumb as a result of injuries. Mr. Day was driving at good speed and came upon the sheep too suddenly to stop before hitting them.

John M. Bachulus and Morton S. Butler were arrested near Middlebury last week, charged with stealing two automobiles. They spent a night in jail and the next morning pleaded guilty and were each fined $25 and costs, which they paid. The cars had been parked near the town hall while the owners were attending the graduating exercises of the Middlebury high school, one belonging to a Benson party and the other to a Middlebury man. Bachulus and Butler took the cars for an evening's joy ride.

Potash brook bridge in Burlington, the cost of repairs on it and its present unsafe condition are causing considerable commotion in the Queen city. The total cost of the repairs has been found to be $4,406, not including some details. F. W. Dewar, the expert, civil engineer of Burlington, states that he considers the bridge highly unsafe at the present time, and that it is more unsafe than it was before the nearly $4,500 was laid out on it last fall, and there is now an extra pressure of 40 or 50 tons put behind an abutment that was already bulging. The hearing on the bridge matter, which has already consumed some days, was continued until June 30.

A Cadillac touring car, owned and operated by Shirley L. Gale of Burlington, knocked down and seriously injured Miss Estella E. Tryon of Vergennes on the Shelburne road near the Home for Destitute Children Sunday afternoon. Miss Tryon was visiting her sister, who works at the home, and they, with a third girl, were crossing the street when the Gale car came upon them. According to the story of all parties concerned, the girls were crossing the road from the golf links to the home when, as the car approached, two of the girls kept on across the road, while the third, the victim of the accident, dodged back and came directly in the path of the car. Her right leg was broken above the knee, her right collar bone was fractured, her nose was broken and there were many bruises and contusions about her body, with a possibility that there may also be internal injuries. Mr. Gale alleges that he was going slowly and that the accident, so far as he was concerned, was wholly unavoidable.

ORANGE COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Notes for Week Ending June 21

The executive committee of the farm bureau met Friday evening and elected Harold A. Dwinell of Calais as county agent to take the place of E. H. Loveland, who recently resigned to go to Chittenden county in a similar position. Mr. Dwinell assumes the new position July 1. Mr. Dwinell graduates from the University of Vermont this year, has had practical farm experience and last summer was assistant county agent in Franklin and Chittenden counties. Coming with strong recommendations from the state extension service and with his training, Mr. Dwinell with the help of the farm bureau committee should carry on successfully the building up of one of the strongest farm bureaus in the state.

The Green Mountain creamery at West Topsham co-operating with the farm bureau held a community picnic Friday, June 20, for the benefit of the patrons of the creamery and others in the community interested in dairying. More than 200 people gathered at the picnic table heavily laden with good things to eat in the grove near the creamery. Following the dinner, the following speakers took part in the program: V. R. Jones, state department of agriculture; A. L. Dexter of Lowell, Mass.; O. M. Camburn of the Vermont extension service; Miss Charlotte Pierpont, state home demonstration leader; Miss Mildred Dutton, home demonstration agent, and E. H. Loveland, county agent. Songs and readings by local people filled in with the speaking.

Mr. Dexter offered $10 in prizes for the best scoring cream brought to the creamery that day to be scored by V. R. Jones. Thirty-eight entered this contest, the winner being Henry Dunkling, with score of 98.5; second, White brothers, with score of 97.3; third, C. M. Colby, with score of 96.5. In the evening a meeting was held at the hall at Waits River, which was attended by over 300. The speakers of the evening were Miss Dutton, E. M. Root, manager of the Connecticut Valley exchange, C. M. Camburn and V. R. Jones, the last two illustrating their talks with lantern slides. The success of this picnic reflects great credit to the directors of the creamery for their efforts. The farm bureau hopes that other communities will follow their good example.

A. L. Lewis, farm management demonstrator, spent a couple of days, returning records of account books summarized this spring. Some of the interesting figures of this survey were printed in the "Orange County Farm Notes," sent to all the farmers of the county. The rest will follow in the July issue of the bulletin sent to members of the farm bureau. The membership committees are now at work in the different communities but they will not be able to see every farmer. Send in your membership directly to the secretary and be sure and be on the list.

F. Mildred Dutton, Home Dem. Agt.
E. H. Loveland, county agent.
